Moving forward

Moving forward, one of the essential factors for human being which makes people know what their life is or should be. By doing your best to achieve something or want to be like someone. In the very beginning of life, you have already been given the rights to decide whether to move on or abandon your own path but almost all of the decisions that people made all depend on your circumstances surrounding when you were born such as born as an orphan, born as an affluent child. This makes a huge difference to opportunity for each person to move forward.

Let's clarify the difference between good and bad circumstances. Start off with the bad, for instance, if you are a poor or an orphan or even you are different from other people. It doesn't matter. You can still move on, make your own opportunity and be proud of your life. The thing is how you are going to make it right, be proud of yourself and be impressed by the other. Even though your situation is not good but this is where you must decide yourself that you are going to go on by hope or let your life be by despair. Just only you think that no one can best me and looking for what you like then you will be able to move forward even more. There are also some kinds of people that have already given up on their life just because they are poor and they think that they have no future for them. This way of thinking makes you lose self-confidence and you won't move forward to anywhere because all steps you take, all the decision you make and one of the future that you choose all of it comes from you, yourself. In the other hand groups that are rich which have more opportunity than the bad one but that doesn't mean that they can always be the best. They just have more expectation and fully supports from their parents.

The reason why we have to move forward is in order to success your goal this is one of the main reasons why we should. To have your goal is very significant. Your goal makes you reach your lives successful and no matter what don't give up on your goal because of you think that you can't make it to end. Second reason is to create your own happiness. Make yourself happy by looking for what you love and succeed. And lastly your life experience. During you are moving forward step by step you will face a lot of problems, mistakes and failures that can make you give up on your goal but don't be so pessimistic everyone can fail. This failure can be your experience that makes you even stronger and surely your determination will help you make your way to the very end of your goal.

So, what are the factors that can make you move forward? Let's take a quick look. Firstly, I think it should be your strong heart desire. Your heart desire will certainly lead you to your success. Secondly, it is dream and you might think that dream is actually same as desires but in my opinion there is a little different between these two. That is dream can sometimes be changed and it can be affected by the time past and by other people, but desires are made by you and it occasionally change. Finally, inspired by someone. It can be important people in the past, Idol or the star. It is up to you to create your own motivation by these people's quote, action, habit or their goodness. For example, Thomas Alva Edison even though he failed so many times but he never gave up on his invention, which is the light bulb, and thanks to him. His light bulb makes this world much more convenient. There are also things that prevent you from moving forward and regret is one of them. Regret happens a lot when you have already made the decision but the result of your decision make you unhappy or unsatisfied and you instantly became regret about your decision you have made. The effect of regret is to prevent making decision by your own and lastly you will end up by let the other decide for your sake. Mistake, this can also stop you from moving forward. Because of all mistakes you made you decide not to move on but it would be fine if you are optimistic and determined.

Moving forward doesn't only mean by achieving your goal but it can also mean by improving skills in yourself. Such as responsibility, patience, knowledge and other physical skills like cooking, playing sports and games. These things can also move you forward even more.

I as a normal student still have more ways to go until the very end of my achievement. There is also much more failure that I haven't taste yet but what await me is future that I have chosen by my own even though there are still a bit more times to think but I won't be regret about it.
