Moving Forward

Moving forward is just like improvement of things, achievement, or solving problems. When talking about moving forward it can means improvement of the education system, solving pollution issue, hate issue, improvement in researches or moving forward to a bright future. The future where everyone were born equal, where there is no poor people, where animals get to live in the wild, where everyone get to choose how they want to live their life, The future that we don't have to worry about polluting earth, the future that money isn't the only thing that we reach for, the future that nature is the first thing we considered before doing anything, The future that human respect each other, or a future that resources doesn't worth starting a war, a future that the leader of every country come together and talk about their country's future and how can they help other country, a future that peace is everywhere, future that the children in next generation are proud of. Moving forward has a lot of meaning in itself. Even though, it cannot be explained by only eight hundreds words, even though, I don't know how to fully tell its meaning. I want you to read about my thought about this word. How this word can change the world, how it is the most important thing for us now.

For me moving forward may means a step closer to success, it may be success in work, success in education, in relationship, the way of life, success in doing something, even it is a very small step, but this small step is better than staying still. If everybody in the earth care about moving forward. Even if it is just a baby step, it can be meaningful. If everyone comes together and talks about their problems, exchange information and help each other. If all of us talk instead of fight, help instead of walk away, plant instead of cut. You know, we called ourselves "Homo Sapiens" which means wise man. If we really are wise then why there are still pollution problems, racism problem, war, poor people, why do scientists need to search for a new planet, why don't we just take care of our planet first, why do we label ourselves black or white. If we have time to worry things about war, something outside earth, why don't we first worry about poor people, sick people, plants, animals, if fuel is polluting the earth, why don't we stop using them and find a better source of energy, if we need to cut trees for constructions then we don't we plant more tree. If we can overcome these problems, our future maybe brighter than staying still and not doing anything. If human stop hating each other, care about other, accept each other and move forward together. Maybe we can reach the brighter future and make the ninth generation proud of us. Maybe we don't need a new planet, we just need a new mindset. If we stop using old system education, stop destroying creativity, stop making children competing for an A, stop make" fishes climb trees". If teachers are the one who prepare kids for the future, then why do every teachers are underpaid, their salary should be equal to the doctor, because a doctor can do a heart surgery but a teacher can reaches kids heart, make them become a good person for society, teach them what is right or wrong. Do you know that we have been using the same old education system for more than 100 years, why don't we just upgrade this system like we upgrade technology. If we all just walk forward together, think together, share and care other. Maybe if we stop for a moment and think properly that what is more important, need or greed, profit or people, price or cost. Today thanks to human, more and more animals are facing their extinction. Why don't we just accept that we human are destroying the earth. If you wanted to be happy, others are too. See those poor people need an opportunity. If we truly want to want a better future, we need everyone on this earth to walk forward together. We need every idea, every creativity, if fuel are bad for nature then stop using it and start use something that is good for nature, if trees are providing oxygen for us to breathe then stop cutting them down and plant more of them, if animals are becoming extinct then stop hunting them, stop making them stay in a room to entertain us, if we are truly wise then stop the war, stop hurting each other, stop looking away and start helping, You see every continent, every country, everybody need to take part in this journey to move forward to a better future.
